SOUNDARYA MUN 2026

DEBATE ◆ DELIBERATE ◆ RESOLVE

A PLATFORM FOR

YOUNG GLOBAL LEADERS

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL'S DESK

SOUNDARYA SCHOOL MODEL UNITED NATIONS 2026

It gives me immense pleasure to welcome you to the inaugural edition of SOUNDARYA MUN 2026.

With a legacy of 33 years in education, Soundarya has always believed in nurturing young minds to become confident individuals, responsible citizens and lifelong learners. Our commitment goes beyond academic achievement; we strive to create learning experiences that broaden perspectives, strengthen values and prepare students to engage meaningfully with the world around them.

In an increasingly interconnected world, the ability to think critically, understand diverse perspectives and engage in meaningful dialogue is essential. Model United Nations provides a valuable platform for students to explore global issues, question ideas, articulate viewpoints, negotiate differences and work towards collaborative solutions. More importantly, it encourages them to recognise that leadership is not merely about having a voice, but about using it with awareness, responsibility and purpose.

Soundarya MUN 2026 marks an important milestone in our journey of creating opportunities for experiential learning and leadership development. I encourage every delegate to approach this experience with curiosity, confidence and an open mind, respecting differences and valuing the power of collective thinking.

May this conference inspire our young delegates to look beyond boundaries, think with clarity and emerge as informed, empathetic and responsible global citizens.

My best wishes to all the delegates, executive board members, organising committee and everyone who has worked towards making this first edition a meaningful and memorable experience.

With warm regards,

Suma S Rao
Principal

MESSAGE FROM THE SECRETARY-GENERAL

SOUNDARYA SCHOOL MODEL UNITED NATIONS

A world full of opinions needs people who are willing to listen, question, and, most importantly, make a difference. That is what Model United Nations is all about.

It is my absolute pleasure to welcome you to the Soundarya School Model United Nations!

MUN is much more than representing countries, delivering speeches, or negotiating resolutions. It is about stepping into perspectives different from our own, understanding issues beyond our immediate surroundings, and discovering the power of meaningful dialogue. It is where confidence meets curiosity, diplomacy meets disagreement, and ideas turn into possibilities.

As Secretary-General, I believe every delegate has something valuable to bring to the table. You do not have to know everything before walking into a committee. What matters is your willingness to learn, the courage to speak, and the ability to listen. Question boldly, defend your stance, and never be afraid to reconsider it. After all, diplomacy is as much about knowing when to speak as it is about knowing when to listen.

To all our delegates, I hope you leave this conference with more than certificates and awards. Take home new perspectives, meaningful connections, and lessons that extend beyond the committee room. Remember, the best delegate is not necessarily the loudest voice in the room, but the one who knows how to make every word count.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to our faculty, organizing committee, and everyone working behind the scenes to bring this conference to life.

Let us make this more than just another conference. Let it be an experience filled with thought-provoking debates, bold ideas, constructive disagreements, and unforgettable memories.

Here's to diplomacy, discovery, and a little healthy disagreement!

Looking forward to seeing you all in committee."

THE AGENDA

Examining How Geopolitical Tensions and Policy Uncertainty Affect Business Confidence and Foreign Investment, and Exploring Multilateral Solutions to Stabilize Global Trade

In an increasingly interconnected global economy, political decisions made in one part of the world can have far-reaching consequences for businesses, investors, and economies across continents. Rising geopolitical tensions, international sanctions, trade restrictions, and unpredictable government policies have created an environment of uncertainty, affecting global trade and investment.

When relations between countries deteriorate, businesses may hesitate to expand operations, investors may withdraw capital, and international supply chains may face serious disruptions. Developing economies are particularly vulnerable, as they often depend on foreign investment, international markets, and stable trade partnerships for economic growth.

The Economic and Financial Affairs Committee (ECOFIN) will examine how geopolitical conflicts and policy uncertainty influence business confidence, foreign direct investment, and international economic cooperation. Delegates will explore the challenges of balancing national economic interests with the need for global stability.

Through diplomatic negotiations and policy discussions, delegates will work towards developing multilateral solutions that promote investor confidence, strengthen international trade partnerships, reduce economic uncertainty, and create a more resilient and inclusive global economy.

UNITED NATIONS CHILDREN'S FUND

AGENDA

Ensuring Children’s Rights and Safety in the Digital World

The digital world has transformed childhood, creating unprecedented opportunities for learning, communication, creativity, and access to information. However, as children spend increasing amounts of time on social media, gaming platforms, and other online spaces, concerns about their safety, privacy, and well-being have become increasingly urgent.

Cyberbullying, online exploitation, exposure to harmful content, digital addiction, and the misuse of children's personal information present significant challenges to governments, educational institutions, technology companies, and families. At the same time, unequal access to technology continues to widen the digital divide, preventing millions of children from benefiting from digital opportunities.

The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) committee will examine how children's fundamental rights can be protected in an increasingly digital society. Delegates will explore the responsibilities of governments and technology companies in ensuring safer online environments while preserving children's rights to education, information, participation, and freedom of expression.

Through international cooperation and policy development, delegates will work towards practical solutions involving stronger child protection measures, digital literacy, responsible technology practices, accessible reporting mechanisms, and equitable digital access.

The committee will seek to establish a balanced approach in which technology empowers children without compromising their safety, dignity, or fundamental rights.

SOUNDARYA MUN 2026

UNITED NATIONS GENERAL ASSEMBLY

UNGA / COMMITTEE 03

AGENDA

Protecting the Freedom of Religion or Belief: Addressing the Rise in Religious Intolerance and Ensuring the Protection of Religious Sites

Freedom of religion or belief is a fundamental human right that allows individuals to practise, change, or choose not to follow a religion without fear of discrimination or persecution. Despite international commitments to protect this freedom, religious intolerance, hate speech, discrimination, and attacks on places of worship continue to threaten peaceful coexistence in many parts of the world.

Religious sites hold immense spiritual, historical, and cultural significance for communities. Their destruction or deliberate targeting during periods of conflict and unrest not only threatens religious freedom but also damages cultural heritage and deepens divisions between communities.

The United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) will examine the growing challenges surrounding religious intolerance and the protection of individuals and communities belonging to different faiths and beliefs. Delegates will consider the responsibilities of governments in preventing discrimination, protecting religious minorities, and ensuring that places of worship remain safe.

The committee will also explore the relationship between freedom of expression, national security, religious sensitivity, and international human rights obligations.

Through constructive dialogue and multilateral negotiations, delegates will develop recommendations to combat religious hatred, strengthen legal protections, safeguard religious and cultural sites, and promote mutual respect among diverse communities.

The ultimate objective is to advance a world in which people of all religions and beliefs can coexist with dignity, equality, and security.

DISARMAMENT AND INTERNATIONAL SECURITY COMMITTEE

DISEC / COMMITTEE 04

AGENDA

Regulating the Use of Missiles and Drones in Modern Conflicts with Special Reference to Iran–Israel–US Tensions

Modern warfare is undergoing a significant transformation with the increasing use of advanced missile systems, unmanned aerial vehicles (drones), and precision-guided weapons. While these technologies have changed military strategies and defence capabilities, they have also raised serious concerns regarding civilian safety, regional stability, international security, and the possibility of escalating armed conflicts.

The tensions involving Iran, Israel, and the United States highlight the complex security challenges associated with missile development, drone warfare, military deterrence, and retaliatory strikes. The growing accessibility of drone technology, including its potential use by non-state armed groups, has further complicated efforts to regulate modern weapons.

The Disarmament and International Security Committee (DISEC) will examine the implications of missile and drone warfare for international peace and security, with particular attention to the tensions involving Iran, Israel, and the United States.

Delegates will explore questions concerning national sovereignty, the right to self-defence, civilian protection, arms control, and the application of international humanitarian law to emerging military technologies.

The committee will also consider how international agreements, transparency measures, diplomatic engagement, and confidence-building initiatives can reduce the risks of military escalation.

Through negotiations and collaborative resolution-building, delegates will seek practical recommendations for regulating missile and drone use, preventing uncontrolled proliferation, strengthening accountability, and promoting peaceful conflict resolution while recognising the legitimate security concerns of nations.

COMMITTEE 05 / HUMAN RIGHTS

UNHRC

UNITED NATIONS HUMAN RIGHTS COUNCIL

AGENDA

Analyzing the Human Rights Implications of Internet Shutdowns during Political Unrest, with Focus on Developing Nations

In the digital age, access to the internet has become essential for communication, education, economic participation, and the exercise of fundamental freedoms. However, during periods of political unrest, protests, or civil disturbances, some governments impose internet shutdowns or restrict access to digital platforms, often citing concerns related to national security, public order, and the spread of misinformation.

While such measures may be presented as necessary to maintain stability, prolonged internet restrictions can have serious consequences for human rights. They may limit freedom of expression, restrict access to information, disrupt education and healthcare services, affect livelihoods, and prevent citizens from communicating during emergencies.

The impact of internet shutdowns can be particularly severe in developing nations, where digital infrastructure, economic opportunities, and access to essential services may already be unequal.

The United Nations Human Rights Council (UNHRC) will examine the legal, political, and humanitarian implications of government-imposed internet restrictions during periods of political unrest.

Delegates will explore the difficult balance between national security responsibilities and the protection of fundamental rights, including freedom of expression, peaceful assembly, and access to information.

The committee will also investigate the responsibilities of governments, telecommunications providers, and international organisations in preventing disproportionate restrictions on digital connectivity.

Through diplomatic deliberations, delegates will work towards recommendations that promote transparency, accountability, proportionality, and the protection of human rights while addressing legitimate public safety concerns.

RULES & REGULATIONS

To ensure a professional, respectful and enriching conference experience, all delegates are expected to observe the following guidelines throughout Soundarya School MUN 2026.

01 Punctuality & Attendance

Delegates must report to their respective committee rooms at least 15 minutes before the scheduled session. Attendance at all committee sessions is mandatory unless prior permission has been obtained.

02 Code of Conduct

All participants must maintain the highest standards of discipline, professionalism and mutual respect. Offensive language, personal attacks, bullying, discrimination or disruptive behaviour will not be tolerated.

03 Academic Integrity

Delegates are expected to demonstrate originality and integrity in their research, speeches, position papers and resolutions. Plagiarism, misrepresentation or any form of academic dishonesty may result in disciplinary action, including disqualification.

04 Dress Code

Delegates must adhere to formal business attire or their prescribed school uniform. Clothing must be appropriate for a professional diplomatic conference.

05 Rules of Procedure

The conference will follow the UNA-USA Model United Nations Rules of Procedure, subject to any modifications communicated by the Secretariat. Delegates are expected to familiarise themselves with the procedures before the conference.

06 Diplomatic Decorum

Delegates must respect the authority of the Executive Board, follow committee protocols and maintain diplomatic language during formal and informal proceedings. The decisions of the Secretariat and Executive Board regarding conference proceedings and disciplinary matters shall be final.

07 Electronic Devices & Responsible Use

Electronic devices may be used for research and committee-related activities, subject to Executive Board instructions. Unauthorised recording, misuse of devices or disruptive use of technology is prohibited.

08 Artificial Intelligence & Research Ethics

Delegates may use digital research tools responsibly. However, submitting AI-generated material as original work without appropriate disclosure, fabricating sources or presenting unverified information as fact is prohibited.

09 Food & Refreshments

Outside food is not permitted on school premises unless specifically authorised. Lunch and refreshments will be provided on campus. Delegates must maintain cleanliness in all designated areas.

10 Transportation & Personal Belongings

Delegates must arrange their own transportation to and from the venue. Participants are responsible for safeguarding their personal belongings, and the organisers shall not be liable for lost or misplaced items.

11 Safety & Prohibited Items

Delegates must comply with all campus safety regulations. Dangerous, prohibited or inappropriate items are strictly forbidden and may be confiscated. Participants must remain within authorised areas and follow instructions issued by conference organisers.

12 Photography & Media Coverage

The conference may be photographed or recorded for documentation and promotional purposes. Photography and publication of images involving minors will be subject to applicable consent and safeguarding requirements.

13 Participation & Committee Discipline

Delegates are expected to participate actively in committee discussions, respect speaking time limits and engage constructively in negotiations. Repeated absenteeism, deliberate obstruction or disregard for committee procedures may invite disciplinary action.

14 Organising Committee's Authority

The Secretariat reserves the right to take appropriate action in cases of misconduct, safety violations or breaches of conference regulations. Such action may include warnings, removal from a session or disqualification, depending on the severity of the violation.
